

LOST GAME ON A FLUKE

Intercity Beaten at Burlington in 10 Innings.

BY SCORE OF THREE TO TWO

With One Man on First Base Coombs Made a Wild Pitch and Ball Struck Plate, Bounding Back of Stand—Runner Scored.

Burlington, July 28.—It was luck and pure luck too, that Burlington won the 10-inning contest yesterday. The score in the tenth which gave the tailenders the game was made on a wild pitch by Coombs, the ball bounding into the air. Before it could be recovered Brennan had run home from third base. The final score was 3 to 2 and none of Burlington's runs were earned, while both of the Hyphens' were. The visitors' errors cost them the game.

The contest was rather an interesting one at times. It was characterized by the strong batting and brilliant base running of Matthews and the double plays of Uniac to Ashmore, and Stankard to Uniac to Ashmore. Pitching honors were about evenly divided. Vickers was hit safely ten times, passed none and struck out two. Coombs was hit safely seven times, passed three and struck out one.

Dr. Strong made his first appearance and did very well as umpire. One decision in the eighth made the home team object. Hayes singled and started to steal to second. Eaton threw down to catch him and Uniac had Hayes out by about 115 feet. He was too sure of his man, however, and Tom dropped down under him. He was called out.

Intercity scored her two runs in the third time. Burns singled, reached second on Coombs' out and scored on Dorman's two bagger. Dorman scored on Uniac's two bagger.

Burlington scored first in the fourth. Matthews made a two bagger and reached third after Hazelton's fly to the outfield was caught. The ball was thrown wild to third by Uniac and Matty crossed the plate. In the fifth Burlington tied the score. Warner singled and got to second safely because Burns fumbled the hit. He scored on a scratch by Vickers which went through pitcher and shortstop. The winning run in the tenth came about like this: Simon went out at first and Brennan singled. Coombs then made a wild pitch to Warner and the ball bounded behind the grand stand. Brennan scored. The score:

GREAT GAME AT RUTLAND.

Bunching of Hits Alone Gave Duff, et al., Victory Over Plattsburg.

Rutland, July 28.—Rutland defeated Plattsburg yesterday in one of the fastest and closest games ever played here. Rutland won by timely hitting in the sixth. The fine work of Duff at short and the batting of Duff and Shean were features. Minahan pitched great ball for Rutland, allowing only four hits. The score:

MONUMENT TO ANN STORY

Unveiled Yesterday by Colonial Dames on Site of Her Old Home in Salisbury—Address by Judge Stafford.

Salisbury, July 28.—A monument in memory of Ann Story, the Salisbury pioneer who won fame by the assistance she rendered to Vermont patriots during the Revolutionary War, was dedicated on the site of her cabin here yesterday. The memorial, which was the gift of Fletcher D. Proctor of Proctor, was erected under the auspices of the Vermont Society of Colonial Dames, which conducted the exercises.

Mrs. W. C. Clement of Rutland presided and the principal address was delivered by Judge Wendell P. Stafford of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, a native of Vermont. Governor Charles J. Bell and Congressman David J. Foster of Burlington also took part in the observance.

The monument, which is of polished marble, is in the form of a truncated pyramid and weighs five tons. On one side of it bears the following inscription:

"On this spot stood the home of Ann Story, in grateful memory of her service in the struggle of the Green Mountain boys for the independence of Vermont, erected by the Vermont Society of Colonial Dames, May 31, 1905."

During the Revolution Mrs. Story's house was an asylum for patriots. In 1778 the house was burned by a band of Indians. She was obliged to dig a secret refuge in the bank of Otter Creek. This was discovered by a Tory spy who threatened to kill Mrs. Story unless she divulged information regarding the whereabouts of the patriots. She defied him, notified her friends and aided in the capture of a Tory camp at Mendon, 23 miles distant.

KEEP CAMP GROUND.

Likely That Government Will Not Purchase It.

Burlington, July 28.—It looks very much as though the government had definitely decided not to purchase of the state of Vermont the camp grounds near Fort Ethan Allen where the National Guard rendezvous each year. An appropriation was tacked on the last army and naval bill before Congress for the purchase of this property for an additional drill ground for the United States troops at Fort Ethan Allen, but this failed of passage after the state passed a law allowing the sale to the government and a lot of red tape had been unwound. When the National Guard went away from the grounds a year ago it was thought to be a foregone conclusion that the state troops would never meet there again for a muster, the plan having practically been decided upon to go from place to place each year. The failure to get the appropriation through Congress and the fact that the government is just now assiduously clearing nearly 200 acres of land adjacent to the present drill ground on the reservation for an additional drill ground, probably precludes the further consideration of the project of the purchase of the state grounds for this purpose, that being the original idea as the state camp directly joins the government property.

This being so it is likely that for some time to come the National Guard will continue to come to the Camp ground each August. Plans for the coming muster here August 11-19 are well under way now under the direction of Adjt.-Gen. W. H. Gilmore, of Fairlee, and the quartermaster, Capt. C. F. Burnham, of this city.

Governor's day, including a review and dress parade, will be held Friday August 18.

LITTLE CY GOT BEATEN

Pirates Turned the Trick on Him.

IN VERY CLOSE CONTEST

Young Kept the Eight Hits Off Him Well Scattered, but Boston Couldn't Hit Leever—No American Game.

Boston, July 28.—Pittsburg took the final game of the series with Boston yesterday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1, after an extremely interesting contest. Tenney sent "Little Cy" Young against the Pirates, and while "Cy" pitched a good game, the team back of him couldn't bat and so lost. The Pirates managed to get eight hits, all told, from the youngster, but they were scattered about. Leever allowed only three safe ones. Two of the hits came in the third inning when Moran singled and went home on Batty's double.

The visitors didn't score until the eighth when Peitz walked and Leever doubled, the former going to third. Clarke singled and Peitz scored. The game was won in the ninth on Wagner's single, Howard's out and Deleahanty's error in dropping Brain's fly.

LACKS FEW REQUESTS.

Supreme Council of Arcanum Cannot Be Called Yet.

Rome, N. Y., July 27.—Supreme Regent Howard C. Wiggins, being asked with reference to the probability of a special session of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum being held, said: "The supreme regent can call a special session of the supreme council only at the request in writing of a majority of the supreme representatives. Such majority requires the request of 39 representatives. Thirty-two requests have been received to date. The responsibility of calling a special session of the supreme council rests with the supreme representatives. If the requisite number manifests such desire, the law will be obeyed, and a special session of the supreme council called at the time and place to be selected by the supreme regent."

CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.

Fire With All Details Reproduced After Interval of Three Years.

Enosburg Falls, July 28.—A strange coincidence by which a fire broke out Tuesday in the same place where it broke out three years ago, July 25, 1902, the same visitor being present, occurred here Tuesday morning when at 10 o'clock a blaze started from sparks which caught in the roof of F. E. Young's blacksmith shop on South Main street. Two horse companies were soon on the scene and the fire was extinguished. The roof was damaged slightly and the water did some damage to sleighs and wagons stored on the second floor. Edward Brady, of East Bakersfield, who was in the shop having his horses shod when the fire broke out three years ago, was also there Tuesday for that purpose.

Talbot; grade 5 and 6, Miss Nina M. Larnmorder; grade 7, Miss Mary E. Doherty; grade 8 and 9, Miss Ida M. T. Wood; grade 10, Miss Daisy M. Kenyon. There are several changes in the corps of instructors of last year, the new teachers being Miss Stickney in the high school and those in grades 2, 3, 8, 9, and 10. Extensive repairs have been made in the old school building. Hard wood floors have been laid in rooms two and three and in the lower hall, the ceilings have been sheathed, and room B has been made into a large assembly room.

PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

Told of Dressing Jack Powers' Wound Made by Gun.

Burlington July 28.—The testimony of Dr. H. C. Tinkham was taken in city court yesterday in the case against Frank and Orson Douger and Hollis Bean, who are charged with the breach of the peace at the mouth of the river during which Jack Powers was shot with his own gun. Dr. Tinkham was the physician who extracted the shot from Mr. Powers' thigh and the lower part of his abdomen. He said that quite a severe wound was caused by the shot, tearing its way through the fatty covering of the muscle in the vicinity of the MacBurney point, which spot in the anatomy became so familiar to Burlingtonians in the trial of the McGriff-McSweeney case. There were also quite a number of shot in Powers' thigh just under the skin. Dr. Tinkham said the wound indicated that it was inflicted when the gun was held with the muzzle pointing downward and held nearly parallel with Powers' body.

This as the only testimony taken yesterday morning. The case was then continued until August 25, when it will probably be completed.

The Jew in America.

"Every country has the Jews it deserves," is an old and familiar saying, and it contains a deal of truth. Spain boasts of the aristocratic Jew, France of the intellectual son of Abraham, while England has produced her Disraeli, and Germany is proud of her Rothschilds," says the Louisville, Ky., Herald.

While not denying the pride of other countries, it is not true that America has produced the highest development of the Hebrew race. As a citizen, as a merchant, as a professional man, as a man of affairs, as one who has a stake in the affairs of the nation, the Jew has reached in these United States his highest, truest and best development. There is no branch of human life in which he has not his life and being. No part of human effort in which he does not take his part, and be it said, and with truth, this part is a leading one.

We are accustomed to think of the Hebrew as a trader, but of late years it is in the professions—especially the profession of law—that this race has made itself felt. In fact, the early history of this race shows it as an agricultural and fighting people. And, truth to tell, it has hardly maintained itself as a race of trading genius in the last century in this country. None of the great, the gigantic fortunes, none of the acquisitions that will pass into tradition or history have been built up by men of pure Jewish strain. In fact, the multi-millionaires—none of them—bear Jewish names, and we are informed that none of them have a traceable strain of Hebrew blood. The Astors, the Vanderbilts, the Carnegies, the Goulds, the Rockefellers are all of Gentile, if not of gentle, blood. In fact the Jew, for the first time in his thousands of years' history, has met his equal in learning, and more than his equal in daring, and this under the Stars and Stripes, and this in the North American Yankeland.—Jewish Gazette.
